

Charles / Cecilia Laughton

AKA "Thursday"

Bank Robber, Mastermind and Financial Industry Outcast

At one time, you were Vice President of this very bank. Everything was good for you, back then. You were the rising star of the financial industry. Some said you'd only been made VP because your mother was on the Board of Trustees for the bank. But you prefer to thank your prior executive experience and good people skills. At the time, everyone believed you'd be running the bank within a few years. And from there, you planned on selling this bank off to a larger corporation and using it as a stepping stone to Wall Street stardom and millions of dollars.

But in your hubris, you overreached. You thought you were untouchable. You discovered, quite by accident, that the manager of this branch, Martin / Marilyn Kirkwood, was embezzling from the bank. Instead of turning him/her in to the cops or the SEC, you decided to make some money for yourself. You demanded to be cut in on the deal, or you'd reveal the scheme. Martin/Marilyn did set up the embezzling system to go to your bank accounts, just like you asked. But then he/she also removed the evidence of his/her own crimes and turned you into the cops.

Your life was ruined. Your claims of innocence fell on deaf ears of the justice system. You lost your job, your reputation, and your future. Your family has disowned you, and you instead of being a successful up and coming executive, you are an ex-con without a single job prospect.

You have spent the last several years in prison. And in all that time, it became clear that Martin/Marilyn Kirkwood was the source of all your troubles. All you want now is revenge. Personal survival is secondary to you. You just want Kirkwood killed, or exposed as the fraud he/she is. Destroyed, somehow.

So that is the real reason for this operation. You convinced some hoodlums that your inside knowledge of the bank meant you could pull off a daylight robbery without getting caught. But there's no way that's going to happen, and you don't care.

Vinny D'Angelo is the one in charge of keeping hostages in line, codenamed "Monday". Edmund / Edith Donalbain (codename "Tuesday") is the safecracker, who once worked on the security for the bank, and will get you into the safe. Cameron / Camilla Palmiro("Sunday") is additional hired help, just there to help yell at hostages and carry out sacks of money and fill in where needed.