

YOU ARE:

Sheriff Nelson Deharo

CROOKED COP

You run this goddamn podunk town. As local sheriff, you got a lot of weight to throw around this town. Officially or unofficially, you control everything that happens around here. But there's always more power to seize and more legal authority to abuse. A crooked cop's work is never done.

DANTE / DEEDEE UNDERWOOD

Last night you got a call about a couple drunken kids breaking into the Victory Electrical Co-op's tiny zoo. When you got there, that Underwood kid was all tangled up in the laundry lines behind the hotel, right near the zoo. The prized albino badger "King Kong" went missing, too. Thing's worth a freaking fortune to the right sort of person. You brought Underwood in for questioning, but can't pin anything on 'em yet. You let the Underwood kid go, but only after you forced him/her to agree to a deal. They'd spy on Manna Hotel guests for you, and you'd kick them back a few bucks. You lied, suggesting that you had enough to convict them but were letting 'em off. Underwood caved quickly.

Your real goal, though, is to get control of the Victory Electrical Co-Op. That utility has a lot of swing in this town, and the Underwood kid recently inherited a controlling share of it, when his uncle died. If you can strongarm him just right, maybe you'll be the one controlling the power to all the farms in the area.

MARTY / MARCY LOWELL

In order to scam the Underwood kid, you got together with your buddy Marty/Marcy Lowell. Lowell's gonna fake up some official looking documents for you. Lowell's good at making official looking documents, and you're gonna lie and tell the Underwood kid it has to do with the break-in. If he doesn't read the fine print, then the Co-Op will be yours.

Lowell should be along shortly, with the papers. And all Lowell wanted in return was the ownership of the Co-op's weird, tiny zoo. You were happy to share.

As long as Underwood doesn't lawyer up, the plan should work fine. Underwood's too afraid of being arrested to think things through carefully.

JANIE LANSING

You've heard rumors that your old high school girlfriend, Janie Lansing, is back in town. You loved her, but she broke your heart. You proposed to her, gave her a ring with a big fucking diamond, but she fled town and you didn't even get your ring back. She joined a convent, you thought. But now she's back, and she doesn't seem to have a habit or anything.

That was all years ago, though. Why would she come crawling back now?

HOWARD ROBERTS

In order to scam the Underwood kid, you got together with your buddy Howard Roberts. Roberts is gonna fake up some official looking documents for you. He's good at making official looking documents, and you're gonna lie and tell the Underwood kid it has to do with the break-in. If he doesn't read the fine print, then the Co-Op will be yours.

Roberts should be along shortly, with the papers. And all Roberts wanted in return was a promise you'd stay out of his trouble with Tanner Cross. You were happy to remain neutral in whatever Roberts has brewing over there.

As long as Underwood doesn't lawyer up, the plan should work fine. Underwood's too afraid of being arrested to think things through carefully.
