

YOU ARE:

Janie Lansing

SACRILEGIOUS MOBSTER

After your last heist went sour, you decided to lay low for a while. And you couldn't think of anywhere more off the map than your podunk home town, Victory Kansas. You hoped to hide out here in the Manna Hotel for a while, let the heat die down and then return to your fashionable life of crime.

Returning to your hometown seems to have been a mistake. It seems like everyone you run into seems to know you.

1

SHERIFF NELSON DEHARD

Your old high school boyfriend is now sheriff of this town. You loved him, but when he proposed to you, you panicked. You even fled town, taking his engagement ring with you. You still have it, in fact. You told everyone back home that you were becoming a nun.

Shortly after leaving town, you had regrets about abandoning him. But you have no idea how to repair your old romance.

Still, that was years ago. Now he's the sheriff of the town, which seems like someone you want to avoid. Or would it be better to have the sheriff on your side? If you could resurrect your old romance, maybe he wouldn't throw you in the slammer...

"WINSTON / WINONA SLATER"

You biggest ace up your sleeve right now is the other cop in your life, Dominic / Darla Garza. Or "Winston / Winona Slater" as he goes by now that he's working undercover in that rock star's tour. You knew Garza back in Cleveland, while you were operating there in a full nun's habit, to keep people from identifying you. (You think anyone notice your face if you're in a full body penguin outfit?) You tipped Garza off on a rival in your gang, who was looking at taking over your operation. That big bust boosted him from a lowly uniformed officer up into the undercover detective line of work. And he owes you a big favor for helping out his career like that. He promised to help you out if you ever needed it.

Plus, of course, you could completely blow his cover if he doesn't help. That'd ruin whatever cloak and dagger cop business he has going on inside the rock star's tour bus. Point is, Garza has a lot of incentive to keep law enforcement focused somewhere that isn't you. Make sure you leverage him to do the right thing when the time comes.

MARTY / MARCY LOWELL

If that weren't enough, you also spotted Marty / Marcy Belka in the parking lot just now. Belka's a wanted man in the Cleveland crime syndicate. He snitched on a couple higher-ups, got them locked away behind bars. And then he disappeared, probably into witness protection. The bosses would pay you a big bounty for putting a bullet between his eyes. Overlook how badly the last job went, too. And you were all ready to execute the bastard and blow town all over again. But then Belka starts pleading for his life. Offering to cut you in on a deal he's doing. Guess he's got some sort of property scam going. The details are unimportant. The important thing is that he promised you a seven figure payout when the job is done. With that sort of money, you can forgive and forget. Or maybe you'll just take all the money and still execute the snitch, too. We'll see when the time comes. Until then, you want to keep an eye on Belka, make sure he's getting you your cash and not stabbing you in the back somehow.
