

YOU ARE:

Dominic / Darla Garza

WORKING UNDERCOVER FOR THE MAN

You're an undercover cop, traveling the land as part of a rock and roll tour. You know there's some drug dealing going on behind the scenes. You just have to find out who it is and get enough evidence to convict them.

KRISTEN GARZA, AKA "ROXIE HEART"

Your sister, Kristen, is the lead singer on the tour, under a stage name "Roxie Heart". "Roxie Heart" has a reputation as a wild child, but you know that she is just acting out for the publicity. She's your innocent little sister; she'd never get involved in anything illegal or immoral.

You knew that someone on her tour's personnel was involved in the drug trade, so you decided to join the tour. Kristen was reluctant initially, but you convinced her to cover for you. She convinced her manager to hire you on as a backup singer, under your own fake name, "Winston / Winona Slater".

OUT OF CHARACTER: Kristen got a secret meeting going down some time in the hotel's laundry room. You don't know about this secret meeting or what it is about. Try to figure out an appropriately dramatic and entertaining way to discover the actions going on in there.

SISTER JEAN LAZIA AKA "JANIE LANSING"

Well, shit. What is a deadly mobster like Sister Jean Lazia doing here?

You knew Lazia back in Cleveland. She's the reason you're an undercover cop now. She gave you a tipoff when you were a uniformed beat cop to take down a local drug operation, and that major arrest led to your promotion. In gratitude, you promised to help Sister Jean if she ever needed it. Only later did you learn that she wasn't a nun at all, but a major mover and shaker in the local organized crime scene.

You never found out why an organized crime operator like her would tip you off. Was it some internal squabbling? Or was Jean trying to do the right thing and put a really nasty criminal behind bars? All you know for sure is that you have her to thank for the promotion. And that she knows that you're an undercover cop. You guess that you should do whatever it takes to keep her from blowing your cover.

COLEMAN / KAREN KANE

Kane is Kristen's manager. They don't get along very well. Kane was brought in by the record company to keep Kristen under control.

At the previous tour stop in Wichita, you spied Kane quickly hiding what was clearly a heroin kit. He/she tried to deny it, but you know what you saw. This means that Kane is the drug dealer on the tour, or at least knows who it is.

So what you need to do is get some evidence. Get the heroin kit in your hands. Discover who is selling the drugs. Become a hero to the department. Simple enough.
