

YOU ARE:

Dante / Deedee Underwood

NERVOUS YOUNG INHERITOR

Your rich grandfather recently passed away, leaving you ownership of the Manna hotel and a controlling interest in the local Victory Electrical Co-op. Your newfound wealth was supposed to make life easier, right? But it's just brought you a world of problems.

DWIGHT DICKERSON

You thought that owning the hotel would make you wealthy. But in fact, the hotel is deep in debt, and you inherited those debts. And that's where Dwight's bizarre plan came in. Dwight always has these crazy, get-rich-quick schemes that never amount to anything. But this time, it sounded like it may work. The electrical co-op owns a tiny zoo out back, and in it is an extremely rare albino chinese ferret-badger "King Kong". The famous rockstar Roxie Heart is gonna be in town soon, and she wants it as an exotic pet. Dwight thought that you could get it, since you now own a controlling share in the co-op. But there's weird regulations about the zoo. The best that you could do was get the key to the zoo and help Dwight break into there and steal it.

If the plan had worked, you'd have gotten enough to get the hotel out of debt. But instead, you accidentally tripped the alar system and panicked. In the end, you wound up tangled in some laundry lines behind the hotel. That's where the cops found you. You just hope that Dwight still has the ferret thing.

SHERIFF NELSON DEHARO

Sheriff Deharo is a corrupt cop and a control freak. He wants to know everything that happens in Manna, Kansas. You've learned to keep away from him. Which is why it was a bad thing that he found you, tangled in some laundry lines near the electrical co-op's tiny zoo while the alarms were going off.

They took you down to the station and interrogated you. You don't know if you've been formally charged or if they have any evidence against you. But the sheriff seems to know that you know about the missing badger.

Sheriff Deharo made you a deal that you couldn't refuse: you'd report to him about anything suspicious happening in the Manna Hotel and in exchange he wouldn't lock you up... for the moment. You know that Sheriff Deharo would find some excuse to imprison you, even if he can't pin the ferretkapping on you. So you agreed to his demands.

GEORGIA VANG

Dwight's ex-girlfriend is a defense attorney. The cops stonewalled on letting you call a lawyer, saying that you hadn't been charged yet and were just being questioned as a witness. But the moment you got out, Dwight was calling her for help. You hope she can help clear all this up.

You also know that she and Dwight recently broke up. Hopefully, that won't cause any problems. You don't want his personal problems leading to you being thrown into the slammer. A distracted lawyer might be the difference between freedom and jailtime. You definitely don't want any jailtime, so you don't want Dwight pestering her when it counts.

ROXIE HEART

You thought that owning the hotel would make you wealthy. But in fact, the hotel is deep in debt, and you inherited those debts. A week ago, you got a phone call from the famous Roxie Heart. Over the bad cellphone reception, it was hard to make out apparently she wanted you to covertly obtain for her “King Kong” the exotic albino Chinese ferret-badger from the tiny local zoo. I guess she wants an exotic pet? Anyway, she promised you a million freaking dollars for this badger thing. That’s the sort of money that will get the hotel out of debt. You just inherited a controlling share in the electrical co-op that owns the zoo. Which should have made this easy, but there are bylaws preventing the sale. So you decided to just steal the badger and cover it up.

That didn’t really go as planned. You accidentally tripped the alarm, panicked and ran. You wound up entangled in the laundry line out back, and you have no idea where the badger has gotten to. You better find it fast. You’re supposed to meet in the laundry room to deliver it soon. Rockstars won’t pay if you don’t deliver the goods.

Apparently, Underwood just inherited a 51% share of the local Victory Electrical Cooperative. And the victory Co-op owns the tiny zoo out back. And that it is against the co-op's charter to ever not own a chinese ferret badger, for some reason.
